Dear parishioners and friends,

Last weekend, the Gospel presents Jesus' commission of St. Peter – "the rock on which I will build the church". Jesus trusts and confides in Peter, despite Peter's shortcomings and failures. The church is divine and human. It is always evolving, in progress. Peter and his companions fashioned and formed those first steps of the church.

Keys are the symbol that Jesus chooses to represent the responsibility that he entrusts in Peter. As you know, you give your keys to someone in whom you put a great deal of confidence. Keys represent authority, responsibility, privilege, as well as the essential and humble service of a custodian.

We continue reading from the same chapter of St. Matthew's gospel today. Jesus explains that he will suffer, and his death is imminent. Peter cannot accept this reality. And the "rock" is now identified as Satan. Better said, Peter's attitude is identified with Satan. Again, we are reminded of how the church is divine and human.

In St. Peter's Basilica there is a huge marble plaque that lists all the names all the popes, beginning with Peter and ending with Francis. We pray today for Pope Francis and for the church.

We welcome Caleb Tate, our new organist, for the 10:00 AM Mass.

Sincerely in Christ, Fr. Joseph H. Callahan
