Dear parishioners and friends,

We are in desperate need for leaders that inspire. The Holy Spirit has heard our cry and given us Pope Leo XIV! His life experience, education, and maturity make him the right person for such a huge mission. We pray that God will protect, guide, inspire, and bless him.

While cleaning out a drawer this week I found the prayerbook from my First Communion. My mother had beautifully written my name, St. Mary Parish, May 16, 1965, pastor Mons. Wm. Newton, and teacher Sister Helen Grace, SND on the first page. It is a historical snapshot of a child's life: parents that gave faith-formation priority, a supportive church community, and school. Sister Helen Grace and I crossed paths many years later here in Cleveland. She felt great pride and satisfaction in her part of the formation of a future priest.

This kind of history is made today in the lives of our young families. Today and next Sunday, a total of 29 children will receive First Holy Communion. We must congratulate and salute the parents who, like our parents, give the religious formation of their children high priority in their busy lives. Sixty years from now, some of them may be looking at a gift from this special day and, like me, with a tear in the eyes thank God for parents, catechists, and a church community that nurtured their faith. CONGRATULATIONS!

Sincerely, Father Joseph H. Callahan

Queridos hermanos y hermanas en Cristo,

Le damos gracias a Dios por regalarnos el nuevo papa León XIV. Tiene mucha experiencia en América Latina ... Me imagino que el papa Francisco esta muy contento en el cielo.

Y felicitamos a los niños y sus familias que reciben la comunión por primera vez hoy y el próximo domingo.

Atentamente en Cristo, Pbro. Joseph H. Callahan
