Dear parishioners and friends,

I am reading the autobiography of Pope Francis entitled HOPE. The major events and influential people of his life are presented with some beautiful reflections about faith and life. It helps to put into context some of the main themes of his ministry as a priest, archbishop, and pope.

"I am Argentine, Latin American, and Italian," says the son of Italian immigrants in Argentina. His grandmother worked for a family from France. She taught her grandchildren French. The neighborhood where he grew up included immigrant families from many countries. He went to public school the first few years and played soccer with his neighbors that included Jewish and Muslim kids. He was taught to appreciate and learn from people of various rich backgrounds.

His childhood experience gave him the foundation for his consistent teaching and yearning as pope for a culture of encounter: interchange, mutual respect, and dialog. He invited us so often to accept, embrace, and learn from "the other," and not to be afraid of people who are different.

This also explains his dream realized of visiting Iraq – the home of our grandfather Abraham (as he calls him). Grandfather of the Jews, Christians, and Muslims. Pope Francis relates how Saint John Paul II had this desire as well, but Saddam Hussein would not permit the papal visit. Against strong recommendations not to visit Iraq (during the pandemic and serious security threats) Francis was able to visit that country. Interreligious dialogue was a priority for him as well.

I recommend this book. Reading it is truly a retreat experience.

Sincerely, Father Joseph H. Callahan

MINISTERIO HISPANO

Queridos hermanos y hermanas en Cristo,

Estoy leyendo la autobiografía del Papa Francisco, titulado ESPERANZA. Cuenta los acontecimientos principales y personas quienes tuvieron una gran influencia en su vida. También, presenta reflexiones muy profundas basadas en sus experiencias.

“Soy argentino, italiano, y latinoamericano,” dice, apreciando esa gran riqueza. El barrio de donde creció contaba con inmigrantes de todas partes del mundo. Su abuela era domestica para una familia francés. Ella les enseñó a sus nietos este idioma. Sus compañeros de la escuela y del deporte incluyeron judíos y musulmanes. Sus padres enseñaron el valor de aceptar a medio mundo y de a culturas.

Entonces entendemos las raíces del tema que siempre desarrollaba durante su pontificado: las oportunidades que presenta la dinámica del encuentro: el intercambio, el respeto mutuo, el dialogo. Siempre nos invitaba a lo que podrían ser experiencias muy enriquecedoras.

A pesar de muchos obstáculos, Francisco logró el gran sueño de visitar la tierra de “nuestro abuelo en la fe: Abraham”, al país de Iraq. Muchos lo aconsejaron no ir por la pandemia y amenazas de seguridad. Pero fue y tuvo una linda y simbólica gira. El dialogo interreligioso siempre fue una prioridad para Francisco.

Recomiendo este lindo libro para su reflexión.

Atentamente en Cristo, Pbro. Joseph Callahan
